

Supplementary Figure 1. Relationship between cortical thickness, and accuracy and response time (A) Cortical maps of significant clusters with (A) accuracy (positive relationship) and (B) response times (negative relationship). Light grey represents gyrus and dark grey represents sulcus. Red: significant clusters for one-tailed test, Yellow: significant clusters for two-tailed test. A: Anterior, P: Posterior.